

User flow

User stories

Step 1:

1. As a user, I want to see details of a phone design in a high-resolution image.
2. As a user, I want to compare one phone to the others, so that I can have ideas how they are different in several aspects such as specification, price, and design.
3. As a user, I want to see the different phone models and its accessories that you offer right away after I open your website.
4. As a user, I want to know what your latest phone model is with its high-resolution picture and its specification.
5. As a user, I want to be notified if there is any sale going on.

Step 2:

1. There are a lot of high-resolution phone images.
2. The page shows comparison of 4 different iPhone models.
3. At the very top of the iPhone page, it shows all apple has to offer related to iPhone (phone models and accessories).
4. The site tends to bring user to check out the latest model, which is iPhone 12. The first huge high-resolution image on the page is all about iPhone 12 that also include a link to iPhone 12 buying page.
5. There is a section with information on how user can save some money in buying a new iPhone. That also includes some information of some providers.
